“ I couldn't understand the world before I had this information from Jeremy Griffith. The divisiveness, the anger, the egocentricity, the hate, and all the horrid things that were happening in the world, made no sense to me, absolutely no sense to me. And being a mother of three children, having then to explain why the world is the way it is and not being able to, was a really hard thing for me. But now that I have this information from Jeremy, I have so much more hope for the future! It's so much brighter. I've got the information now to arm myself with, to be able to help my children through life.

For me it was an awakening, an enlightenment. It was calming because it helped me to understand all the people around me. It helped relationships within my family. It helped relationships outside of my family. It's so important. It is the most important thing to me now and that's why I want to be a part of it and why I can't see myself doing anything else but living with this information. It is the most important book that has ever been written! It's enlightening, it's freeing, it's mind-blowing! It explains why we had to be so upset and angry and horrible. It explains that we had to be that way to get to where we are now. And that's so relieving because you don't have to spend your time reminiscing about how bad the past was, and what you did wrong. And now it's just live for the future. Live for love, live for cohesiveness, live for unity. I have no words because it's been such an experience for me, but it's the ultimate enlightenment. If you were looking to be enlightened to what it is to be human, then this is it!

It literally solves everything in the world, and I know that's a huge statement, but it does! It heals racism, it heals the battle of the sexes. It does so much for you. Any question that you've ever had in your life, it will answer it for you. It will help everybody. There is nobody that it wouldn't help because the information is just so... it's what we needed! This should be taught in schools. I wish I had have learned this in school so that my life to this point was probably a bit better than what it has been! Even to have just found the information now, I am so grateful, and so grateful to be a part of this movement. It's so exciting! It really is! It's going to help everybody. If you take the time to understand it, it will help you, that's it! ”

“ My name is Amanda Pollard and I'm really excited to be opening the Ipswich World Transformation Movement Centre, in Ipswich, Queensland, Australia.

So I live on a farm here in Ipswich, or just outside of Ipswich, with my husband Adam who I've been married to for 20 years and also my three children, Jackson, 15, Locky, nine, and Phoenix, four years old.

I came across the World Transformation Movement's information about two years ago, and I think it was at a time in my life when I really needed it, so it was a good gift at a time that I really needed it!

I couldn't understand the world before I had this information from Jeremy Griffith. It didn't make sense to me. Nothing made sense. The divisiveness, the anger, the egocentricity, the hate, and all the horrid things that were happening in the world, made no sense to me, absolutely no sense to me. And being a mother of three children, having then to explain why the world is the way it is and not being able to, was a really hard thing for me. But now that I have this information from Jeremy, I have so much more hope for the future! It's so much brighter. I've got the information now to arm myself with, to be able to help my children through life.

I was very much into self-help books. I always found myself to be a spiritual person but never found the awakening that I was looking for. And that's the exact word that I've used to explain this information; for me it was an awakening, an enlightenment. It was calming because it helped me to understand all the people around me. It helped relationships within my family. It helped relationships outside of my family. It's just so important, it's so important. It is the most important thing to me now and that's why I want to be a part of it and why I can't see myself doing anything else but living with this information. It is so important. It is the most important book that has ever been written! It's enlightening, it's freeing, it's mind-blowing! But in a good way!

It's definitely helping me to become a better person. It's definitely a process, a journey and it will take time. It's something that you want to do because it not only helps you, but it helps the people around you. It helps humanity. It's uniting, it helps to unite people rather than be divisive. It explains why we had to be so upset and angry and, you know, horrible. And it explains that we had to be that way to get to where we are now. And that's so relieving because you don't have to spend your time reminiscing about how bad the past was and what you did wrong. You know, now, it's just live for the future. Live for the new world. Live for love, live for cohesiveness, live for unity. I have no words because it's been such an experience for me, but it's the ultimate enlightenment. If you were looking to be enlightened to what it is to be human, then this is it!

Freedom! Exactly! It's making me feel like I was I'm 12 again. You lose that as an adult, you don't...It's allowing me to look at life through my children's eyes, through the joy of my children's eyes, rather than my upset, judgmental, human condition eyes! It's really life changing, it really is.

Looking back over the past years, from when I was not reading Jeremy's information and then the last couple of years after knowing Jeremy's information, even to see the difference in my smile! It's true! I can see that I'm happier than what I used to be. So yeah, it's so good.

So I've suffered from depression and anxiety for as long as I can remember, probably more so after having my first baby at 23 I had a bit of post-natal depression, which I'm sure a lot of mums go through. I was always looking for answers, I guess in the wrong places. And all these self-help books that I used to turn to give a little bit of relief but never fixed anything or never gave me any answers, never solved anything for me. Jeremy's work has literally solved every question that I've ever had. And now to understand where the upset comes from or where the anxiety and the depression and the hurt, where it comes from—to be able to understand that has put me in a place to be able to accept it and move on with my life without the need for medication. But like I said, it's a journey. It's a process. It won't happen overnight. I've heard quite a few people in the WTM say it, that you'll remember the day that you 'got' the understanding, you'll never forget it because it's just such an experience. And it is. It's life changing.

So I've written something that I'd like to read briefly: The understanding that comes with Jeremy's work is literally life-changing and soul-healing. It has helped calm my anxiety and depression without the need for prescriptions, just with the knowledge and understanding itself. Having said that, it is important to say that this information should not be used as a substitute for professional care. And I do agree with the philosophy not to overly study it, beyond verifying its truth. My psychiatrist is so happy with my progress she even wants to read FREEDOM herself.

Definitely take your time with the information, because it is confronting. It's extremely confronting but it's extremely enlightening at the same time. You need to pace yourself with the information, and revisit it, as many times as you like. But when you're in a good mind frame about it too, that's really important. It's just so important that people take their time with it, and especially if you've had mental health issues in the past, it's really eye-opening. And yeah, pace yourself, pace yourself with it.

So the two topics I think that I enjoyed the most is the explanation of the love-indoctrination process and how important nurturing is in the human race and how we've not had the nurturing that we needed to be where we need to be. That for me was really interesting and has helped me become not only a better daughter but a better mother. See [Freedom Essay 21\*: How did we humans acquire our all-loving, unconditionally selfless moral conscience?]

Also, the explanation of religion for me. I've always seen myself as not an atheist, but I'd say an 'omniest', which is someone that believes in the love of all religions. But I wasn't a religious person. I was christened an Anglican, but I wasn't a church-goer, I didn't go to church. I didn't agree with it and I couldn't understand why I didn't agree with it. But now I understand. 'God' is Integrative Meaning, and that for me was just mind blowing, absolutely mind blowing. The answers that I'd been looking for for religion has totally been explained in this book. Yeah, it's mind-blowing. It's absolutely amazing. See [Freedom Essay 23\*: The integrative meaning of existence and its personification as 'God']

It literally solves everything in the world, and that's a huge statement, but it does. It heals racism, it heals the battle of the sexes. It does so much for you. Any question that you've ever had in your life, whether it be about God or the differences between men and women, or... yeah it will answer it for you. It will help everybody. There is nobody that it wouldn't help because the information is just so...it's what...we needed! This should be taught in schools. I wish I had have learned this in school so that my life to this point was probably a bit better than what it has been! But yeah, even to have just found the information now, I am so grateful, and so grateful to be a part of this movement and so...I still have no words...it's so exciting! It really is! Yeah, it's going to help everybody. If you take the time to understand it, it will help you, that's it!

That's what I want for the Ipswich WTM Centre—just a place for people to come and talk about Jeremy's work, because he's put close to 45-50 years into this information and thank God he did because it's beyond anything that you will ever read or experience in your life.

To see so many more people jumping on board in the last couple of years just since I've come across the information—to see the momentum and the power and the love and everything, all these people behind it—is just so heart-warming. And it's amazing to see, it really is.

I love talking to people about it. I couldn't think of a better subject to talk about than the human condition and I, two years ago, didn't even know what the human condition was! So yeah, now it is literally my most favourite subject in the world, it really is! I'm so excited about it. I can't wait to start talking to more people about it. ”
