“ Hi there. My name's Frank Balamatsias. I'm 40 years of age and I'm also the co-founder of the Melbourne World Transformation Movement Centre.

I'm a land surveyor by trade; I've been working in the land development sector for some 16 years, and I decided to help co-found the Melbourne WTM Centre once I was introduced to this information through my good mate Sam Akritidis. Since then it's been an incredible sort of journey in understanding the human condition and also the amazing transforming effects that this information can have on our lives.

The human condition does exist in us and that is being played out every day in the world, and it [the world's dysfunction] is just a manifestation of our own upset and an acknowledgement that it [the human condition] does exist. And the great thing about it is it's been scientifically explained—Jeremy's gone to the effort of [explaining the human condition with] basic biological fundamentals.

Once you find that defence of why we've had to live conjuring up all manner of excuses to explain our upset behaviour, once you see the defence of that, you can see just how stifling that upset is in you, and how this information, this explanation of the human condition, explains it, defends it, we sort of move on to defending ourselves, to explaining ourselves; but also to living this new world which is the Transformed State see [Freedom Essay 15*], where you know that's been the human journey up until now, and we've all invariably been affected by it and have had to live under the duress of it, but that's not the case anymore, and we can open the door to this truthful insight of the human condition and just sort of let that truth about ourselves work its way through us and support one another and adopt that Transformed State, because it's that transformed vision of humanity that really 'gets me going' with this information. That's the main thing. And it's on offer now for everybody—everyone can access it and we can definitely go live in the new world where we just concentrate on supporting this information, helping one other and reconciling the upset in us every day.
